

Places to Go, Things to Do

Museum of the Cape Fear Historical Complex, Fayetteville
Festival of Yesteryear
Saturday, September 8
10:00 A.M.–5:00 P.M.

Discover games, crafts, skills, and customs from the early 1900s. Enjoy musical entertainment and activities reminiscent of a traditional fair. (910) 486-1330.

Tryon Palace, New Bern
Oral History Workshop: Elders' Storytelling Remade into History
Friday, September 14
2:00 P.M.
Admission fee is four dollars, or free with general admission.

Join oral and public historian Dr. Richlynn Goddard as she details how to turn family members' storytelling into oral history.

Museum of the Albemarle, Elizabeth City
Day on the River: Featuring the Classic Moth Boat
Saturday, September 15
11:00 A.M.–4:00 P.M.

Watch crafters make decoys and crab pots, and hear musical performer and storyteller Bob Zentz. The event coincides with the Thirteenth Annual Moth Boat Regatta, a fund-raising event sponsored by the museum. (252) 335-0164.

North Carolina Museum of History, Raleigh
Family Day: Back to School
Saturday, September 15
1:00 P.M.–4:00 P.M.

What was it like to go to school one hundred years ago? Create a classroom of yesteryear, write with steel-nib pens, and play recess games. (919) 715-0200.

Museum of the Cape Fear Historical Complex, Fayetteville
Arsenal Roundtable
Thursday, September 27
7:00 P.M.

Museum historian Kathryn Beach will discuss Reconstruction in southern North Carolina. (910) 486-1330.

North Carolina Museum of History, Raleigh
African American Foodways
Saturday, October 13
3:00 P.M.–4:30 P.M.
Ages 12 and up
Registration required by Friday, October 7.

Join curator of community history Shawn Saunders for a demonstration on cooking throughout the African Diaspora. Sample poulet yassa and chicken-and-sausage gumbo, and take the recipes home to your own kitchen. (919) 715-0200.

First Flight Centennial Commission's International Symposium on the History of Flight: "They Taught the World to Fly: The Wright Brothers and the Age of Flight"
McKimmon Center, North Carolina State University, Raleigh
Monday, October 22, to Thursday, October 25

Workshops for teachers will be conducted during the symposium. Educators from universities, colleges, home schools, and K-12 public and private schools are invited to participate. Several workshops will be conducted by NASA Educational Outreach from national headquarters and NASA's Langley Research Center. Materials will be distributed for teachers to use in the classroom. For more information, call (919) 515-2261, or visit the Web site at <http://www.firstflightnc.com>.

Adviser Newsletter

North Carolina Museum of History, Raleigh, NC, (919) 715-0200

September 2001

THJHA Introduces the Adviser Bulletin Board for 2001–2002

Have you ever wondered how other THJHA advisers use the program in their classrooms? How you can recruit students in your school? And, how do you make a replica of Tryon Palace with popsicle sticks?!

Maybe you have a great lesson plan or project idea that you wish you could share with other THJHA advisers, but you don't know how. Maybe you're an inexperienced adviser wanting advice on THJHA; or maybe you're an experienced adviser with a new question or problem. And maybe, just maybe, you want a sympathetic ear, someone who knows what it's like trying to fit history into an EOG-dominated, 'reading, writing, 'rithmetic'-oriented curriculum. Well, now you can communicate with other THJHA advisers through the THJHA Adviser Bulletin Board.

This electronic bulletin board is accessible through the THJHA Web page at <http://ncmuseumofhistory.org> and is password-protected, which means it is solely for the use of THJHA advisers. The password is located in the box below. Should you forget the password, remember that it is the founding date of the association and that this information can be found in the THJHA Adviser Handbook (or e-mail me at thjhaclubs@ncmail.net, and I'll give it to you).

THJHA hopes that you will use this bulletin board as a way to get ideas and support from others like yourself, advisers who are working with North Carolina's youth to promote state and local history. For the first few months, to facilitate discussion, THJHA will post monthly topics. In September, advisers will be asked to reply to "What is your favorite lesson plan?" On other occasions, THJHA staff will post important updates and helpful information, so check the bulletin board often and let your voice be heard.

SHHH . . .

The password to the THJHA Adviser Bulletin Board is:

April1953

The THJHA Adviser Newsletter is published periodically during the school year by the Education Section of the North Carolina Museum of History. It is sent to all THJHA advisers.

The Museum's Home Page:
<http://ncmuseumofhistory.org>
THJHA E-mail Address:
thjhaclubs@ncmail.net